

There is no direct train/subway route from the airport to the ED center in Freimann even though they are physically quite close to each other. If you arrive on your ED day I suggest a taxi or Rolf or Mrs. Sigrid Aniol. If you arrive the night before, I suggest staying in Munich near the central train station (Hauptbahnhof) which is easily accessible from the airport (S1 or S8 trains; 10 Euros; 45 minute ride). You can use the BMW hotel offer and stayed at the Kings Center hotel for 100 Euro per night including all taxes and a full breakfast. It is a 5 minute walk from the Hauptbahnhof and very close to the must see part of Munich which is the city center (Marienplatz). The next morning take any of 6 trains from the Hauptbahnhof and transfer to the U6 to Freimann. From the Freimann stop walk (following BMW's directions) to the ED center; it is a short and doable walk through a residential area with some gravel paths and side street walking required. Make sure to wear good walking shoes--this is not Park Avenue in New York! You will see a sign on the gate which says European Delivery; push the button and someone will come out from the ED building and walk you across the parking lot. Once inside hand them your passport, go upstairs and eat and drink and wait for your delivery agent to come up and greet you and go over your paperwork consisting of the following:

- Your registration
- Your proof and terms of insurance
- Directions to your drop-off point
- Roadside assistance instructions

The manuals will be in the glove box there is a general car manual and then separate manuals for the radio and the telephone functions

The European license plates will already be installed on the car; they are much thinner and longer than US plates and they fit the back of the car just fine but the fit is a little funny on the front. The front license plate bracket will be in the trunk.

Follow your delivery agent down to your car and ask a zillion questions before you drive off! Make sure to have him take a picture!
